

Re- Compost

WANTED ICFF

reimagining new york's composting system to make it truly circular

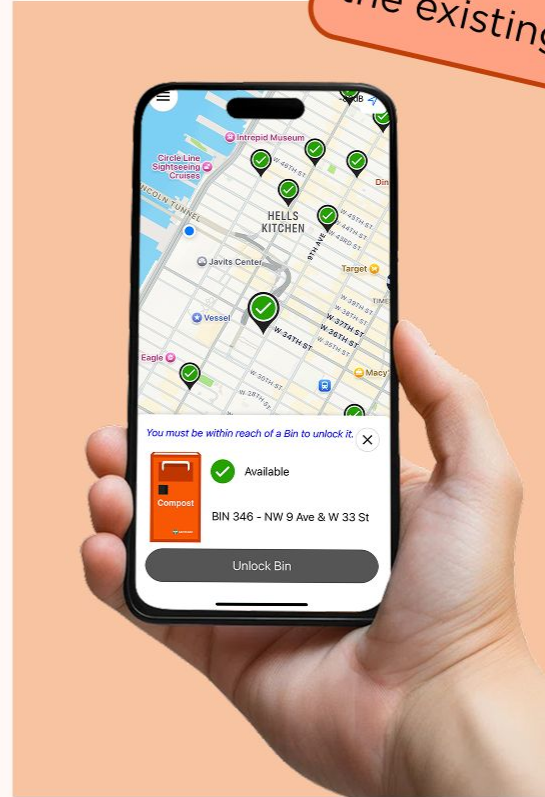

the context

organic waste infrastructure

the existing bin

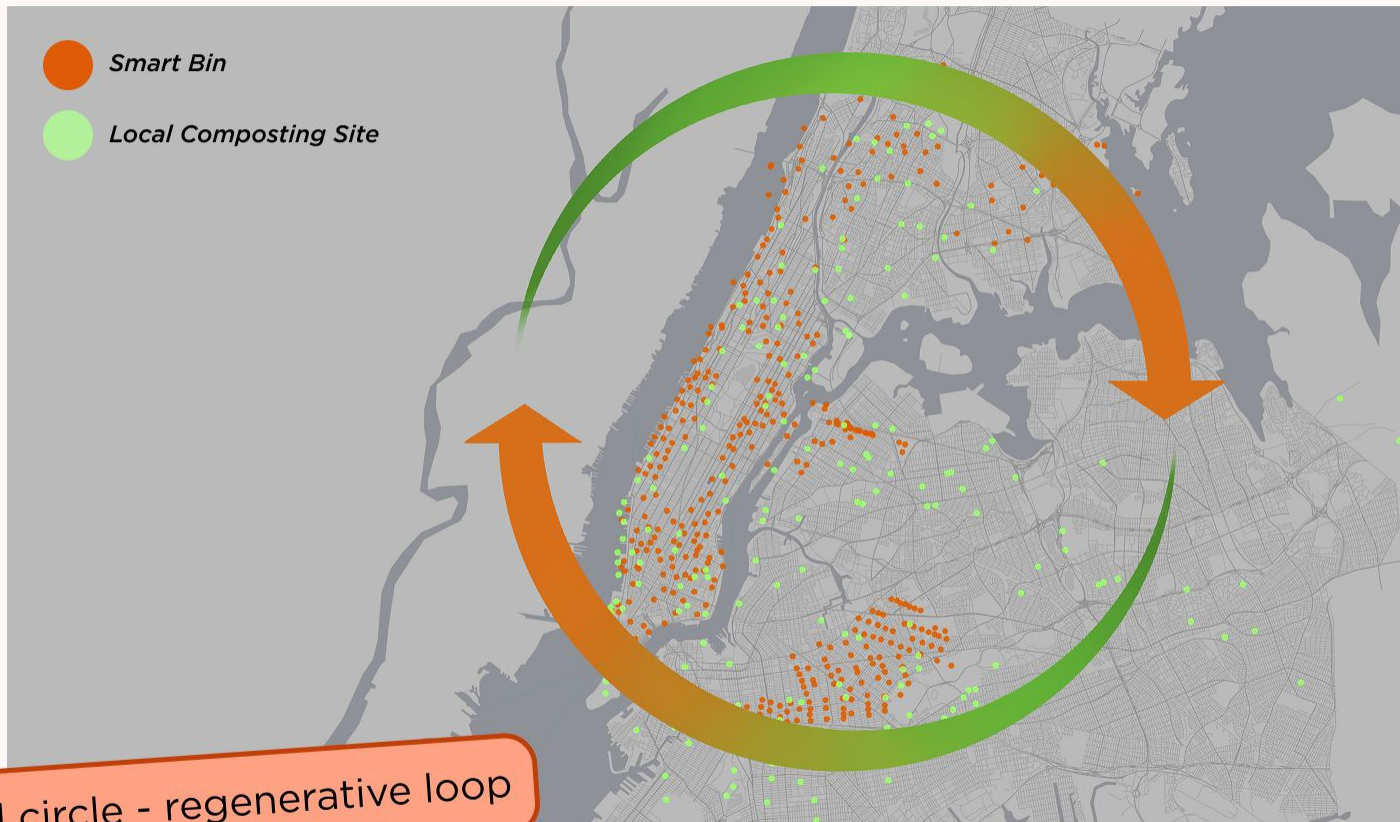

the existing app

the current community

- Smart Bin
- Local Composting Site

full circle - regenerative loop

the community
& initiatives

the layers of intervention

physical . digital . educational physical

Collects waste,
returns soil,
greens the city,
educates users

Informs, tracks,
connects,
builds
community

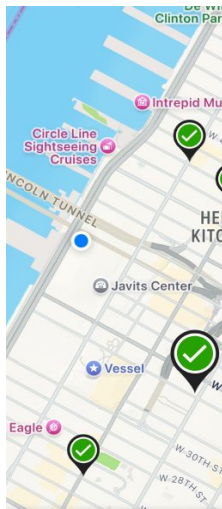

digital

educational

Makes the cycle
visible, fosters
participation, links
to local initiatives

how we tie it all together

Available

BIN 346 - NW

Drop Waste

I've composted.
I want to do more!

Start Engaging

NYC Smart Compost

Start

Topics:

What really is composting?

A quick way to understand the whole composting process and it's purpose.

Composting 101

The step-by-step guide to become a pro at composting!

What about food waste?

Still have food left overs after composting? Here's what you can do with it.

What to do with the soil?

What you give, you get back! Learn what to do with the compost soil you have.

Thanks for giving the city!

A little closer to a cleaner place...

Make a difference 🌱 Your contribution now on their way to a healthy, nutrient-rich soil.

If you'd like to do next:
Share Compost, help nourish
city gardens, parks, and

At Home
Share finished compost to use in your garden, or local green

Helps grow a greener city

Donate Soil

what future awaits

three unit regenerative system

street corners

sidewalks

community gardens

parks

large spaces

& flexibility

the soil as a central
element in the design,
creates a visual and
experiential contact for urban citizens who would not usually directly benefit from composting.

Together, these layers close the loop — not just on waste, but on awareness, participation, and care for the city — making the system more visible, accessible, and sustainable.

thank you!

Florence
Grace-
Castonguay

RISD

Gabriela
Mestriner

PRATT

Gabriela
Mierkalne

CCA

Rida Zeng

SVA

Sebastian
Arce

EMH

WANTED

IEFF